A Grand Rally Of The United Farmers of Alberta

Was Held In The I. O. O. F. Hall On Wednesday, June 5.—Many Prominent Speakers Present.

One of the largest convention ever held in this district by the United Farmers of Alberta occupied a full days session here yesterday. The Provincial Farmers were present and took a very active part in the proceedings. One of the largest crowds of farmers ever seen have packed the I.O.O.F. hall and listened to the stirring address made by President Tregillis and Vice President Wm. Mr. Tregillis spoke on the aims of the U. F. A. and the importance of high cost of living, agricultural interests, money lending, and moral upbuilding of the masses. He touched upon all these questions in a way showing that he has made a study of the subjects and the large crowd listened with great attention. Mr. Sly addressed the meeting on the aims of co-operation, the financial and the care which should be exercised by the farmer in replacing the insurance with reputable companies and told of several which employed different ways to get the farmer to give them their business. One company was highly recommended by him as being the best and safest to deal with. He made a speech in the frame of the Galloping Gull which he said was doing a world of good for the principles of the United Farmers throughout the Dominion. Following his address a discussion took place regarding the tariff on Canadian bought goods which was very interesting.

The Single Tax was also discussed in a thorough manner. The president explained in plain terms the aims and reasons why this had been adopted and made all points clear. He called for a standing vote as to who were in favor of the Single Tax which was responded to by all in the meeting with the exception of Mr. McGehee who then read the following paper which he had prepared on the question covered on the discussion:

THE SINGLE TAX.

This paper is a thoughtful discussion of the Single Tax. The president explained in plain terms the aims and reasons why this had been adopted and made all points clear. He called for a standing vote as to who were in favor of the Single Tax which was responded to by all in the meeting with the exception of Mr. McGehee who then read the following paper which he had prepared on the question covered on the discussion:

THE SINGLE TAX.

Single tax is understood to be day taxes based on land values only, that is, that all money needed to carry on our government are derived solely from the taxation of the value of real estate, while at present it is derived from several other sources, taxation on personal property and articles manufactured.

In Alberta, in the rural municipalities, the only direct taxation is on land, so much an acre, regardless of its value; but don't think for a moment that you are paying no taxes other than eight or ten cents an acre for school taxes, or four or five cents an acre for property taxes.

Young men taxes on most every thing you wear on your body, or use in connection with your business, and if you live in a village district you pay taxes on the improvements on your farm and on your live stock in short the fruit of your industry.

In towns and villages taxes have been levied on the personal property, exhausts and buildings and improvements which they have made on their premises.

These taxes are by them figure ed in as burdens on the cost of expenditures on these goods, and charged as such to the selling price of these goods, to be paid for ultimately by the purchasers, who, in this agreement, say so by this that you not only pay your school and local improvement taxes, but pay the import tax on the clothes you wear and the machinery you use, which are added by the manufacturers or wholesalers in their cost to the retailer, but also the local taxes of your retailer, which he adds to the selling price of his goods, and justly so, because all wealth, or money representing wealth, has to be produced by labor on the only source of wealth—land. The merchant, being only a distributor, not a producer, can get his profits from the producer, so you see, whenever taxes are levied it always has to be taken at last from the producer, that is, off the land. This being the case the single taxor proposes to have the only source of tax direct and in proportion to its value, and thus do away with the many indirect ways of taxing the producer, and giving the different distributors an unique advantage over the producer by giving them a larger share of the tax. This is done to benefit the consumer, not the producer, more than the taxes on the stuff they distribute. That this is done is testified by the competitive better financial circumstances of the distributor over the taxer.

The direct taxing of land values and abolishing all other forms of taxation will not only benefit the producer but the consumer as it would do away with an army of non-producers in the form of revenue officers, which have to be kept at every port of entry in order to subdue the natural instinct of the individual to avoid, if possible, the custom house. The cost is well worth keeping in mind by all producers. Even non-producers are taxed, and his income is derived from the producers. But we have to have a certain number of non-producers to act as distributors, officers of the law must be on duty and so on, but it is also our duty as producers to pay our taxes, and the individual who is unable to contribute to the best possible number, and that we hope will accomplish through co-operation.

In taxation of land values only, we do away with the tax on the industry of the people and put it where it properly belongs.

Originally land belonged to all the people and only certain individuals could get the power to possess the land and then gave them over their less wide awake neighbors, and those enabled by it all means in their power generally by force and then sustained their possession by unjust laws which are yet to a certain extent recognized by us and which we cannot alter.

It is the power of the individual and the individual ownership of land without destroying our present high state of civilization, but in the taxation of land values only we do away with the gravest dangers of our country, the land speculators, in making them pay the just share of the burden. I say the gravest danger to our civilization and me too. I do not blame the individual who takes advantage of the system, but the individual who is enabled and fatigued will condemn the system which makes the working men and produces my enormous sums to go into the pockets of these land speculators and only make a humble home for themselves and their families when after all they are the only solid foundations of a nation.

When the government introduced the subject of Direct Legislation, and after spending up the subject, turned it over to President Tregillis, who spoke at some length on the rottenness of partyism, a subject which he handled in his inimitable way.

The result of this speech was a resolution to the effect that we should support the United Farmers of Alberta presented on record in favor of Direct Legislation, and pledged itself to support the question in future. The question was put to a standing vote, and every man arose to his feet.

The meeting then adjourned for a few hours to meet again in the evening.

W. J. Holding, of Carmarth-ton, was keeping as secretary.

Among the judges appointed for the fair who have already accepted invitation to act are the following: Prof. W. B. Richards of Fargo, N. D.; Percherons, Belgians and Suffolk Punch; Wm. and Kindy Nampoori, C. G. Robinson, London Ont.; Shorthorn; Prof. J. Archibald, Galt, Ont.; Postley, crosses its value very much but a number of men in the same neighborhood will increase its value to a certain extent and "win the hearts" or population the value increases in proportion, as is shown by our masters who lease where land is selling for hundreds of thousands of dollars for the square foot. This is not man but just that the land mostly in production is held in price by increased population should pay its taxes in proportion to its increased value. As in olden times wide awake men have great pride in production. Even non-producers are taxed, and his income is derived from the producers. But we have to have a certain number of non-producers to act as distributors, officers of the law must be on duty and so on, but it is also our duty as producers to pay our taxes, and the individual who is unable to contribute to the best possible number, and that we hope will accomplish through co-operation.

The King's birthday was observed in a quiet way here last Monday, the business men and citizens calling for the closing of all business places.

A large party spent the day in the hills and others availed themselves of the opportunity of two days in the hills by starting out early Sunday morning and returning Monday night.

A full game was played between a team from Wm. W. Brooks and a team from the town boys, some effort was made late last week to hold a day of sport but the time being short in which to prepare they failed to make a go of it.

It is the intention of the citizens, we understand, to have a holiday at some future date when the weather is more favorable.

Immediately upon his arrival Chief

W. H. Brooks, of the Alberta Game Commission, paid a visit to the reservation and took Ham in to town to Brooks, where he was placed behind the bars.

Monday afternoon Ham, another Indian and a squaw drove into Brooks, and in some manner unknown required sufficient of the prohibited fire water to put them in a dangerous mood.

Finally Ham got into a severe argument with Brooks, and Ham and his wife ran up running round and thrashing a revolver, which he fired several times while in a drunk狂妄状态.

The Horse And Its Cost

Canfully conducted investigations by the agricultural department of the University of Minnesota, as well as those conducted by the office of farm management of the United States Department of Agriculture show that American farm work horses are utilized only about three and a half hours a day on the average.

Horse power is thus utilized to less than half its capacity.

Per unit of work done this power costs more than twice what it should cost.

The full utilization of the power available would thus reduce artificially the cost of plowing crops.

The cost of keeping a work horse is on the average about $125 a year. The average utilization of the horse is about 1250 hours a year, at an hourly cost of 10 cents per hour.

If we double the number of hours worked, the cost is doubled, and the cost per hour is reduced to 5 cents.

THE TIDE OF IMMIGRATION TO THE PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Manitoba Takes the Lead During the Past Year in Securing New Settlers, but Many go to Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia.

Ottawa.—That the efforts of the Manitoba government and the "Milk Money" have been a decided factor in the tide of immigration toward the prairie provinces is proving highly successful already, and the results are reflected in the departments of the interior.

There were ten thousand more immigrants settled in Manitoba during the last year than the year previous, and the rates of the first month of the past year show that all of the efforts of Manitoba are well deserved.

Most of the new settlers are wealthy farmers who are purchasing improved properties. The capital averages of $10,000 per head, and the new settlers have as their destination Manitoba, as compared with $4,000 the previous year.

Saskatchewan obtained 45,158, an increase of six thousand, and Alberta 43,523, an increase of 10,000, while British Columbia figures being 31,525, a slight falling off.

On the other hand, the credit for obtaining the lion's share of the immigrants is given to the British Columbia government, which has done more to attract immigrants to the prairie provinces than any other province.

Quebec's share was 50,602, and the maritime provinces, 15,973. Of last year's 254,237 new settlers, no less than a third were from United Kingdom.

CROWN LUMBER gives a house a cheap shabby look which makes it difficult to rent. If it is to live in, you want to be proud to show it to your friends, and the fuel bills are large where low grade lumber is used. We make a specialty of high grade and "classy" material that you will want to use. We have built up the largest retail business in Western Canada by being very fussy as to grades and selling better stuff than is sold elsewhere at prices as low as those asked for the inferior kinds. If your contractor uses CROWN LUMBER it means that he is a man who wants the best of everything and it is the best recommendation he could have!

Fifty-nine Nations Invited to the Seventh Congress

Invitations have been sent by the Government of the Dominion of Canada to 59 nations, inviting each to send two or more official representatives to the Seventh International Dry-Farming Congress at Lethbridge Alberta, the week of October 21st next. The invitations were hand signed, engraved, with the address engraved, and they were signed by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada.

EXHIBITION FEATURES.
The exposition grounds grow apace, and with the issuance of the preliminary premium list there has been received a large number of "additional" entries. The attention of the Executive Committee has now turned to arranging for a number of special premiums for state, province and district displays, and announcement of these will be made in the official premium list, which will be issued August 1st. The probability of many exhibits from the southern and southern sections of the United States has also caused the issuing of a number of classes for soughs, cotton, and legumes.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL EXHIBIT.
The handsomely engrossed invitation to President William Howard Taft has been delivered through the Canadian Government at Ottawa and addressed to President Taft. An official acknowledgement has been received by the Canadian Government in which the President expresses a hope that Congress will pass a $10,000 appropriation for the making of a Federal Exhibit. Since the receipt of the acknowledgement the United States Congress has inserted a $10,000 appropriation in the annual bill, and it is believed that it will pass in season to permit of the gathering of a large exhibit from some 25 dry-farming demonstration farms and experiment stations. The President has already designated Hon. James Wilson, secretary of Agriculture, as his personal representative to the exhibition.

AGRICULTURE.
The grower of the largest watermelon exhibited will carry home with him a silver trophy cup of the value of $5, the gift of the Board of Trade of Taber, Alberta. This organization has also donated similar silver cups for the best 10 ears of yellow dent corn, the best six stalks of yellow dent corn, and the best peck of milo maize.

More Locals.

The auction sale of jewelry and cut glass from the Farrow stock which had been lost Saturday was a big success. If you did not take advantage of the opportunity you missed a grand chance for procuring good jewelry at your own price. However, another sale will be held on Saturday of this week which will doubtless clear up the remaining stock, and I think that this will be the last chance you will have of getting these goods at prices below cost so you will do well to remember the sale on Saturday of this week.

On Wednesday of next week the members of the local Lodge, Knights of Pythias, who have had the honor of joining the D. O. K. K. degree will start for Wainwright for weeks holiday while the Grand Lodge is in session. The Clareholm band boys who have all joined this club will accompany the Doleys on their trip. The D. O. K. K. band in the Dominion considerable attention will thus be accorded Clareholm. About twenty from here will board the special car which is bringing the Lethbridge contingent and the times they will have will be quite enough to make names of endurance. The Tiger has been well fed and the sands have received a fresh coat of heat for the Tyros who are patiently awaiting the arrival of the D. O. K. K. boys from the south. Fifty members will join this degree at Wainwright. All Aboard.
